A WORD FROM OUR SPIRITUAL GROWTH TEAM

Make allowance for each other's faults and forgive anyone who offends you. Remember, the Lord forgave you, so you must forgive others.
Colossians 3:13

As Christians, this calls us to forgive one another but also challenges us to live it out in the wider community and world.

A few hours ago, I listened to the SA press conference in which our state leaders – political, medical, and police - announced that we are going into lockdown because of the latest COVID outbreak. I came away with some strong emotions.

The first was concern for people infected and unwell, and concern for those in isolation waiting to find out if they, too, have this highly contagious virus. Another was hope that we will avoid people becoming seriously ill and dying, and that we will be able to get it under control quickly before it spreads too much. I also felt deep gratitude for our leaders and experts, and for their teams of staff, working flat out to manage this crisis on our behalf.

But other emotions included frustration that at times the speakers seemed to be under attack from a few indignant journalists. Rather than seeking details to inform the public, these few were angling for mistakes, firing barbs in attempts to pull down the leaders.

Inevitably, in years to come, history will point out the mistakes made. But in the torrent of crisis, many hard-working people are doing what they can to deal with this horrendous pandemic. I am thankful for them and would not want their demanding jobs or responsibilities.

So, I will forgive them for being as human as I am and make allowance for any mistakes in their management of this difficult situation and will uphold them in prayer. And yes, Lord, I do hear you! Help me to also make allowance and forgive those journalists, because they too are just doing their jobs!

God of love, thank you that you accept us, "warts and all". In this time of crisis, protect and strengthen each one of us through your mercy and forgiveness. Help us to overlook one another's faults and extend to each other the gift of grace that values, respects, and forgives. Jesus, help us to forgive and extend your healing love to a broken world. Amen.
